Venice, June 19.

LEtters from Rome of the 13th Inſtant ſay, they had an Account there, that the Grand Duke's Gallies, in their way to Malta, had taken a Turkiſh Ship of 30 Guns and 100 Men, and that the Genoeſe Gallies had taken another of 13 Guns. On the 13th the Electoral Prince of Bavaria ſet out from Rome for the Court of Florence. The ſame Day ſeveral Dominicans, attended by ſome of the Pope's Guards, went a little way out of the City to receive the Biſhop of Oviedo, who being accuſed of Quietiſm, has appealed to the Court of Rome: They conducted him to the Caſtle of St. Angelo, where he is to be kept a cloſe Priſoner. Letters from Corfu tell us, that the Captain General was preparing to ſail to joyn the reſt of the Fleet at Zant. By Ships lately arrived here from Smyrna, we learn, that 40 Turkiſh Men of War are at Gallipoli; that 10 others were expected from the Coaſt of Barbary to join them; and that ſeveral of their leſſer Ships of War were ordered to the Black Sea, the Ottoman Court being in ſome Apprehenſion of a Rupture with the Muſcovites. About 8 Days hence a Convoy will be ready to ſail for Dalmatia, with 2500 Men and 150000 Ducats. 350 Men arrived yeſterday from Verona, whence 500 more are daily expected, and 2000 Swiſs are on their March hither from Breſcia.

Lisbon, June 27. The Squadron of Ships which is fitting out here, to be ſent to the Aſſiſtance of the Pope, againſt the Turks, will not be ready to ſail before the End of next Month, notwithſtanding all Diligence is uſed in this Work. They are to be victualled for ſix Months.

Warſaw, June 19. By Letters of Yeſterday from Lublin we have an Account, that the Conferences began there on Monday the 14th. At the opening of the Congreſs there were Difficulties ſtarted upon two Points. In the firſt Place, the Deputies of the Confederates refuſed to treat with the Velt-Marſhal Flemming; but, upon further Conſideration, thought fit to recede from the Objections they had made againſt him. On the other Side, the Plenipotentiaries from the King would not admit that the Deputies of the Confederates ſhould ſtyle themſelves Repreſentatives of the whole Republick of Poland, nor treat with them upon that Foot; but only as authorized by that Part of the Republick which had entred into the Confederacy. After ſome Debate on this, the Plenipotentiaries of the Confederates acquieſced; and there appears ſo good a Diſpoſition in both Parties to come to an Accommodation, that 'tis generally believed it may be finiſhed in a Fortnight's time: The Approbation of the Treaty being to be left to a general Dyet, which the King, by an Inſtrument ſent to Lublin, has agreed and promiſed ſhall be called in the Winter; but 'tis thought it cannot well meet till January next.

Bruſſels, July 6. Letters which arrived Yeſterday from Vienna adviſe, that the Departure of Prince Eugene for Hungary, and that of the Marquis de Prié for the Netherlands, was again put off to the 30th of June. Count Kinigſegg has appointed M. Foulon, a Banker of this Town, to be Receiver-General of the Forfeitures, and the Council of Finances are to have the Nomination of the reſt of the Officers to be employed in that Commiſſion. The Placart lately publiſhed concerning theſe Forfeitures, occaſions great Uneaſineſs amongſt the Friends of thoſe who ſtill continue in the Service of Spain, as well as amongſt the Merchants of theſe Countries, and particularly thoſe of Antwerp, who have deputed two of the beſt verſed in the Spaniſh Trade, to repreſent to Count Kinigſegg the Apprehenſions they are under, that this Reſolution of the Imperial Court will probably deſtroy the little Trade which they ſtill carry on with Spain; and that the King, by way of Repriſal, will Confiſcate all the Effects they have in that Kingdom, and therefore pray Count Kinigſegg to repreſent this Affair to the Emperor, ror, and, in the mean Time, to ſuſpend the Execution of the ſaid Placart; to which he has not made yet any Anſwer: 'Tis ſaid he will comply with the firſt Part of their Demand, but that 'tis not in his Power to order the deſired Suſpenſion. Part of Prince la Tour's Equipage is returned from Vienna, and that Prince himſelf deſigns to accompany the Marquis de Prié to this Place.
